

Explosive Ordnance Risk Education by DRC Ukraine

Due to the widespread contamination with Explosive Ordnance (EO) across Ukraine, the Danish Refugee Council (DRC) in Ukraine started to provide online sessions on Explosive Ordnance Risk Education (EORE). EORE aims at increasing awareness of children (6-11 years old), teenagers (12-17 years old), and adults (18+ years old) across Ukraine regarding the risks of EO and safe behaviour around them.

All DRC EORE resources will increase your knowledge on:

- How to act in dangerous situations – and which areas are more likely to be dangerous
- Rules and algorithms of safe behaviour around EO
- You will be able to move with greater confidence in the area where there was or is an armed conflict.

Access to online courses and sessions:

1. You may find the available self-paced courses on the Website of Stopmina (in Ukrainian and Russian language): <https://stopmina.dk/> and on Viber/ Telegram Chatbots: <https://drcinua.com/>.

2. DRC Ukraine also provides in-person EORE online sessions. These sessions are conducted by DRC EORE Trainers. DRC trainers are all experienced educators, facilitating EORE sessions in Ukraine since 2015. Please, note that:

- Individually following the automatic instructions is mandatory for the registration
- Access to internet as well as computer and/or smart phone is required for the session
- All EORE sessions are limited to a maximum of 15 participants per session
- Because DRC is a humanitarian, neutral, and impartial organisation, EORE sessions will continue to be provided in either Ukrainian or Russian
- Due to the current volatile situation, DRC reserves the right to cancel the online EORE session in the interest of staff safety. DRC apologises in advance for such an occurrence – and will contact you with an alternative time as soon as possible
